Our group defends national accounting and auditing firms facing legal and regulatory actions.

Drawing on our extensive knowledge of the auditing process and professional auditing standards, we develop creative and cost-effective approaches to achieve the best results for our clients.

We are well-known for our ability to try cases to successful conclusions, deal effectively with government regulators and reach reasonable and favorable resolutions of matters when appropriate. Our litigators have significant experience representing clients faced with claims of malpractice, misrepresentation, fraud and other professional misconduct. That experience extends to representing auditors, accounting firms and their employees in a broad range of matters involving the SEC, the DOJ, the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board and before state attorneys general.
