Government Affairs

Our government affairs group utilizes its significant public sector experience to help our clients in their interactions with federal, state and city entities.

We are an integrated team of litigators and transactional lawyers offering comprehensive counsel that ensures our clients have productive relationships with government agencies. Our team draws upon its broad experience as former judges, prosecutors and regulators to represent clients in obtaining regulatory approvals, responding to governmental inquiries, litigating or investigating complex issues or developing new partnerships with government entities.

We also advise on federal and state investigations and enforcement activities, internal investigations, white-collar prosecutions, financial services compliance, real estate development/ land use matters, labor and employment law compliance and election and campaign finance law.
